Duty of Disclosure

Before the insured enters into an insurance contract, they have a duty to tell us of anything that they know, or could reasonably be expected to know, may affect our decision to insure them and on what terms. The insured has this duty until we agree to insure them.

The insured has the same duty before they renew, extend, vary, or reinstate an insurance contract. The insured does not need to tell us anything that:

- reduces the risk we insure them for;
- is of common knowledge;
- we know or should know as an insurer; or
- we waive the duty to tell us about.

If the insured does not tell us something

If the insured does not tell us anything they are required to, we may cancel the contract or reduce the amount we will pay you if you make a claim, or both.

If the failure to tell us is fraudulent, we may refuse to pay a claim and treat the contract as if it never existed.
